Bunny Business

TWO-YEAR-OLD Mia Minetti of Daly City didn't know Easter bunnies came THAT big when she met this one at The Fashion in Westlake last week. However, she lost little time in becoming chums and undoubtedly got in some lobbying about Easter baskets. Mia is the daughter of Mrs. Linda Minetti of 196 Edgemont Drive. Along with other North County youngsters, she'll be busy Easter morning — looking for Easter baskets and eggs. (Post-Times Photo by Ray McDonald

WESTMOOR WATER LINE REPAIR

State of Emergency Sought

By LOUANNE HEATH

Jefferson Union High School District's Board of Trustees voted Monday night to seek permission to declare a state of emergency at Westmoor High School and go to work immediately to repair its leak-plagued hot water line.

Trustees said they hoped the County Superintendent of schools would certify that an emergency does, indeed, exist at Westmoor and that a time and materials repair contract with a guaranteed maximum cost could be awarded and work begun within three weeks.

According to A. L. Buonaccorsi, consulting engineer from the firm of Buonaccorsi and Murphy, the water line appears to be deteriorating at a rapid rate. It shows 30 per cent corrosion now, as compared with 10 per cent approximately a year ago, he reported. And he added:

"In my opinion, an emergency condition now exists at Westmoor in that a new break may occur at any moment at any point in the line."

It was just such a break that forced officials to dismiss classes March 13 after a minimum day schedule had been completed by the student body.

Workmen from Cooper Bros., plumbers, immediately began work on the break (discovered under the north end of the classroom wing) and encountered considerable difficulty in repairing that leak and a later rupture in the line under the south side of the school's main stairway.

The engineer recommended that the district begin work on the second and third phases of repair work begun last year. This would replace the buried lines with a rooftop system at a cost of about $130,000.

The board was unanimous in its opinion that the situation is an emergency. Schools Supterintendent Edward D. Morgan observed:

"A total breakdown of the hot water system may occur at any time and should that happen, the district would have no hous-

Architect for Civic Center Appointed

Award-Winning Designer to Plan Hall

The Daly City Council Monday night named Donald F. Haines as architect for the city's new civic center to be built at Ninetieth Street and Sullivan Avenue.

Haines designed the San Jose Civic Center, which has won national acclaim and several awards.

He was selected from 14 architects who had submitted brochures of their work and were interviewed by the city's technical staff.

City Manager Edward Frank said Haines "has a comprehensive background in designing other municipal, industrial and office buildings." And he added:

"These buildings are aesthetically pleasing and practical—an item that should be considered in view of the location of the proposed site of the city hall."

City Attorney Paul Hupf said later that condemnation proceedings are underway on the property and a pre-trial conference with land owners will probably be scheduled in late April or early May.

The biggest parcel of property is owned by the Callan interests, a little more than 36 lots, Hupf said.

The architect has considerable preliminary work to do before coming up with an acceptable design and the condemnation suit should not present any problem, the attorney explained.

In other business, the city council, in preparation for the

CIAMPI TO GET PAID

JESD Approves Overpass Billing

By DON MILLER

Architect Mario Ciampi's bill for designing a student overpass on Lake Merced Boulevard near Alemany Boulevard in Daly City (pictured above) finally got a green light from the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night.

The board of trustees approved the bill for $7,150 after being informed by the county district attorney's office that Ciampi was entitled to a higher fee that the district usually pays.

Ciampi last fall had billed the district $3,950 more than the customary eight per cent, claiming that extra design work involved when the location of the overpass was changed twice had increased his expenses.

The overpass ultimately cost $40,000. Original cost had been estimated at $15,000 by Ciampi's firm.

In a letter to the board, Lois J. Scampini, deputy district attorney, said that extra compensation to Ciampi, in view of the changes in the overpass plans, could legally be paid.

Ciampi had billed the district at a rate of two and a half times his labor costs for the extra work involved in re-designing the overpass.

Commenting upon this, trustee O. Wayne Douglas told fellow board members that he had chatted with officials of the American Institute of Architects recently and had been told that the common multiplier is three times labor costs—instead of two and a half times. And he added

"I think the overpass is a credit to the community—dou-

Cooperation Is Lacking, D. C. Charges

By RON BATES

That somewhat uneasy armistice between Daly City and the Cow Palace, in effect since the city annexed Bayshore City last year, ended abruptly Monday night.

Neighbors of the big sports arena ignited a smoldering fuse at the City Council meeting and city officials blew up with a barrage of criticism at the Cow Palace that may be heard in Sacramento.

The arena is a state-operated agricultural district. Its directors had vigorously opposed annexation in a struggle that ultimately ended up in the state legislature before the city won out.

The incident that ignited the fuse was a charge by neighbors that the Cow Palace had altered the natural drainage of water from its huge parking lot, permitting it to drain into their back yards.

They also charged the Cow Palace with using part of its land as a garbage dump.

When asked about a legal approach to force the Cow Palace to take corrective measures, City Attorney Paul Hupf responded by citing a history of non-cooperation from the state unit since the area was annexed.

The normal procedure of the city in a case like this would be to bring pressure on the board of directors of the Cow Palace," he said, "but here it won't work."

Hupf said the city has been plagued by a number of problems with the Cow Palace involving police and fire responsibility.

The city has to provide fire protection to the Cow Palace, he said, and to do that firemen must have knowledge of the building and its specific problems with respect to exhibits.

"We have been told that the state fire marshal will have to oversee anything that the city does in relation to protection of the Cow Palace," he said. "Nothing can be done unless the fire marshal concurs."

Hupf argued that since the

Authorities Mystified by Girl's Death

Authorties were mystified yesterday over what happened at the Cow Palace to cause the death of a 16-year-old Gilroy 4-H Girl Monday.

It was at first thought that the girl, Karen McCarthy, had suffered fatal internal injuries when she was crushed by the cow she was showing at the Junior Grand National stock show.

Coroner Paul B. Jensen reported, however, that an autopsy disclosed that Karen had not been injured.

The possibility that she was

POLICE STATION NEARBY

Gunman Fells S.S.F. Banker

A poorly dressed gunman shot and critically wounded the manager of a South San Francisco savings and loan office at 11:30 a.m Monday, just across the street from the South San Francisco City Hall and Police Department.

South S. F. police were seeking a crewcut man between 25 and 28 years of age, about 5-10, wearing a tan windbreaker jacket and brown trousers. He reportedly wore horned-rimmed glasses.

The assailant ran out of the Industrial City Savings and Loan Association office at 401 Grand Avenue, in the heart of the downtown area, and turned south on Maple Avenue immediately after shooting Manager Nate DeGiobbi.

DeGiobbi, 45, 138 Palm Avenue, San Francisco, was rushed to Peninsula Hospital where he was listed in poor condition.

The man entered the savings and loan office, the front door and windows of which look out on the City Hall Plaza and the South San Francisco police station, and went directly to the railing in front of DeGiobbi's desk and spoke to him about opening a checking account.

The savings and loan company does not handle checking accounts.

The tellers in the office paid little attention to the man and suddenly there was a shot. DeGiobbi fell forward through a gate in the railing and slumped to the floor bleeding from a chest wound.

Norman C. Hynding, president of the savings and loan association, said the bullet was fired at point blank range. It entered DeGiobbi's chest and traveled upward through his hand and out through his back.

Hynding said it was apparently a robbery attempt. Officers guess that perhaps DeGiobbi had tried to take the pistol away from the gunman, but no one heard any angry words or statements that "this is a robbery."

North County Race Draws 4 Hopefuls

The fifth supervisorial district seat held by Alvin Hatch of Half Moon Bay has turned out to be the most sought after seat in the county.

Four persons filed their nomination papers for the post by last Friday's 5 p.m. deadline. No other race drew more than three candidates.

The four candidates are former Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, Pacifica Councilwoman Jean Fassler, Charles Carter of Skylonda, a Belmont manufacturer and Hughes M. Blowers, a Montara real estate man.

Board of Supervisor Chairman James Fitzgerald of San Bruno and seven county judges were assured of re-election as nobody filed for nomination to oppose them.

The seven judges are Frank Blum, Wayne R. Millinton and Edmund Scott of the Superior Court and W. Howard Hartley, Roy W. Seagraves, Frank J.

Miss D.C. Race Gets Serious

The tenth annual Miss Daly City contest, in the preliminary stage for several weeks as officials drew up plans for the event, got down to serious business this week.

The first candidate for the beauty title filed her application with the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce.

She's 20-year-old Patricia Van Koll of 248 Santa Barbara Avenue. An ash blonde, Patricia is making her first run for the title. She attended Jefferson High School and is now employed part time by a San Francisco restaurant.

Applications for the contest may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission Street.

To be eligible, entrants must be between the ages of 16 and 26 and have lived in Daly City for the past six months.

Mailman Dies in Car Accident

A 43-year-old Pacifica mailman died early Saturday morning when his pickup truck skidded out of control on rain-slickened Coast Highway in Pacifica and broadsided into an oncoming car, the Highway Patrol reports. The accident occurred near the Sea Bowl bowling alley.

Houston Taylor Labert, 43, 24 Alcala Court, was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital. Driver of the other car, Rex Eugene Gardner, 39, and his passenger, Sue C. Michaels, 34, both of San Francisco, also were taken to Peninsula.

The woman suffered multiple lacerations of both legs and a possible head injury. Gardner was treated for forehead cuts and injured knees and released.

Gardner told officers that he

A CONFLICT OF INTEREST?

The D. A. Versus the D. A.

Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night decided with a somewhat mischievious chortle to pit the county district attorney against the county district attorney.

This all came about when the trustees voted to contest a county move to seize a sliver of land that would complete the White Street extension right-of-way.

The county had gone successfully to Superior Court last year to win the right to extend White Street in Daly City through property owned by the Jefferson District.

However, in so doing, the sliver of land — which the county has since found out it also needs for the project — was not included in the court action.

Schools Supt. Richard Foster told the trustees that the district has been served a summons and order for possession of the sliver and that the price to be paid the district would be $10.

This evoked a derisive laugh from the trustees, some of whom in so many words said the county was trying to pull a fast one.

The board directed Foster to contest the move, which normally is done through the district attorney's office.

However, the district attorney also is serving in behalf of the county in this matter and this state of affairs, Foster pointed out, represented some sort of conflict of interest.

Foster recommended that the district not employ an outside attorney to represent the district.

The trustees agreed and that, in effect, pitted the district attorney against the district attorney.

And the next step, the trustees concluded tongue-in-cheek, was up to the district attorney.

Land Trade May Get O.K. Tonight

A land trade between Pacifica and Daly City may be culminated tonight after three years of negotiations.

The Daly City Council Monday night formally approved the trade and set the legal wheels in motion by annexing 66 acres now in Pacifica and releasing 33 acres in Daly City to Pacifica.

Pacifica is expected to take similar action at its council meeting tonight to complete the deal.

Both parcels of property are owned by the Henry Doelger Corporation.

The 33-acre parcel Pacifica will receive is at the Junction of Edgemar Freeway and Skyline Boulevard. Doelger is developing the Fairmont subdivision there.

The 66 acres Daly City will receive are located on the west side of Edgemar Freeway. Franklin D e l a n o Roosevelt School, covering 20 acres, is located on the property.

The land trade was stalemated last year when Doelger and Daly City indicated that the Edgemar Freeway would make a "natural boundary line," and that they wanted to trade Fairmont acreage for 100 acres west of Edgemar.

Pacifica, however, was willing to give Daly City only 66 of the 100 acres asked for. Pacifica city officials expressed the belief that the remaining 34 acres close to the Pacific Manor Shopping Center had potential for high rise office or apartment buildings.

Doelger told Pacifica he was willing to bring in 600 acres to south of Pacifica into the city if the trade included the 34 additional acres.

But officials held firm, indicating Pacifica would probably get the 600 acres anyway because it was in the city's watershed.

bly so in view of all the controversy that raged around it originally."

Superintendent of Schools Richard Foster, asked if he was satisfied that Ciampi's figures were accurate and reasonable, replied he was but that "I'm a little disappointed with Mario and his estimates . . . I think he's better at design and creation than at estimating costs."

Ciampi appeared at a board meeting in February to explain his billing. He told trustees at that time he would be glad to abide by whatever decision the board came to.

In other business, the board was informed that the district had acquired the final piece of property in connection with its plan to expand Woodrow Wilson School and ultimately, if the state approves, to raze the present structre and erect a new building.

The last parcel, Foster told trustees, had been acquired through condemnation proceedings.

city's fire department as a protection responsibility, there should be some way of imposing and seeing that fire regulations are carried out.

He recalled an explosion last year during an ice show in Indianapolis that killed nearly 50 people is under investigation now and charges of "criminal neglect" may be pending.

Later, the city attorney said there have been incidents at the Cow palace in which deaths were involved and Daly City police not notified until the following day.

"It appears we have to follow a track to Sacramento to get cooperation," he said. "Generally, we get it at the grace of the state."

Councilman Albert Polonsky, who investigated the drainage situation Sunday at the request of some of the Bayshore residents, charged that the Cow Palace had changed the contours of the parking lot and brought it to within five feet of the residents' back yards.

The drainage, instead of flowing along the lot and down a nearby street, began flowing into the back yards. The flow has weakened the foundations of some of the homes and there is continual seepage into basements, Polonsky added.

"Nobody can use his land to the detriment of someone else's," Polonsky said.

poisoned was being explored today through a series of laboratory tests. Jensen said her blood had an odd brownish color, possibly caused by some type of medication. He speculated that she might has ingested some medicine meant for animals. Nothing else of the nature was found in the area except some aspirin, the coroner said.

Karen was hurt Sunday when the cow either rolled on her or squeezed her against the side of a stall. She was examined at the Cow Palace and no injuries were found. She complained of a pain in the lower right side of her abdomen, however, and was taken to Peninsula Hospital. She was checked again there and was released when no evidence of any injury was found.

Monday morning Karen was found in her dormitory, doubled over in pain. An instructor, Ann Haddock, took her back to the hospital. Jensen said she was in a semicoma when she arrived. Her stomach was washed out and a blood sample was taken. She died about a half-hour later.

The coroner said it might take several days of toxicological tests to determine what killed the girl.

Daly City Moves to Halt Flooding on Two Streets

Daly City officials moved fast this week to ease a flood problem that has its origin in two county locations and its effects in two city locations.

Mud and silt caused by the construction of the Market Street extension through the San Bruno Mountains are flowing through city drains and being deposited at the drains' terminus in county property along El Camino Real, Daly City officials have been told.

When it rains, water backs up through storm drains at two locations in Daly City—Valley Street and Second Street, City Engineer William Chapman reported at a city council meeting Monday night.

Residents of the two areas appeared to the meeting to urge remedial action.

Chapman was instructed to work out plans with County Engineer Don Wilson for drainage lines to alleviate the problem.

And City Attorney Paul Hupf was asked to take legal stps that would enable the city to move in and clean out the drain, located on private property, if it rained before the new drainage system was laid.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi said he would discuss the problm with the board of supervisors.

PACIFICA TROPHY

A Real Grudge Game This Time

If any Pacifica policemen wanted to know where the football trophy stolen from the radio room of the police department last Wednesday night was, he could have found it at central fire department headquarters.

It seems firemen have been somewhat disgruntled since last April when a police department team allegedly failed to show up for an annual football game between the two departments.

Firemen claim they should have had the trophy by default. But, they said, the policemen failed to give it up.

Wednesday night three unidentified men crept into the police department and stole the trophy from under the policemen's noses. Literally.

And, the firemen reported, the policemen didn't even notice the burglary until late Thursday night or early Friday morning when word, somehow, got to the Broadmoor police department and the sheriff's office.

Broadmoor officers and deputies telephoned the Pacifica department to inquire if they were missing a trophy.

In any case, the custody of the trophy will be legally decided April 5 when teams from both departments meet again in a football game.

This time it is expected to be a true grudge match.

ing (other classrooms) available to the students displaced.

"In addition to this, we must consider that a serious accident occurred when one of the men working on the line received third deegree burns. More injuris could result from future breaks."

The line carries water heated to 180 to 200 degrees under 20 to 30 pounds of pressure. At present, water is escaping from the system at approximately four gallons per minute, or more than 5,000 gallons a day, the board was told.

If county school officials agree with the district that the situation is an emergency, repairs could begin in less than a month and be completed in time for the opening of school in September, trustees were informed.

However, if the county office decides than an emergency does not exist, the repair work would have to be let out for bid and the project probably would not begin until June.

The new permit, Hupf explained, would enable cabs to pick up passengers at the sports arena.

The city will maintain control of the permits and each one will require a public hearing before the council.

In other action the council:

Set April 27 as the hearing date for a request from Paul Passaglia, 799 Hillside Boulevard, to rezone the 55 feet of his property from residential to apartmnt.

Tabled a request from Roy H. Perry, 301 Crocker Avenue, to rezone his property from single family to residential.

Accepted improvements of Southern Hills units 2-A and 2-B from the Panorama Development Company.

Accepted $21,200 from the county for the resurfacing of a portion of Geneva Avenue.

Approved use permits for signs at 63 St. Francis Square, 6565 Mission Street, 7070 Mission Street and 6045 Mission Street.

School Deal Asked in SSF

South San Francisco city councilmen and school trustees met Monday night to see if the city can somehow obtain permanent or long-term control of school property adjacent to the Magnolia school.

The school building itself was purchased by the city a few years ago, and the adjacent land is desired for parking.

However, the property is technically tied to a state loan of school funds, and cannot be sold without state approval. After some lengthy discussion, trustees agreed to see if they can work out some legal means of transferring the title to the city.

Gallant Men Take Title

The Gallant Men of Westmoor, led by Don Giovanetti, downed Mike Wong's Jefferson-based Playboys and Bunnies, 15-10, to win the second annual Co-Ed Volleyball Tournament, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

The champions won two of three matches from Wong's team to win the title.

The Warriors from Westmoor, captained by Gonzalo Calderon, took third and the Hi-Fi Teen Club placed fourth. A group of freshmen from Westmoor, led by Steve McGowan, came in fifth.

Trophies were presented to the top three teams.

A 3-HOUR SEARCH

The Burglar Planned Well

A squad of police—and police dogs—descended upon a Colma department store early Friday morning in the belief they had trapped a burglar inside.

But three hours and two floor-to-ceiling searches later, they discovered where the burglar had escaped and the hunt was called off.

An inventory taken subsequently at the Alec Discount Department Store at D Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard disclosed that the thief had escaped with $2,000 in currency, two .38 caliber revolvers and a small quantity of narcotics.

Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage said the thief probably had hid in the store at closing time. He said four persons had been questioned in connection with the burglary but that no arrests had been made.

The manhunt was triggered about 1:15 Friday morning when a store janitor, Leroy Johnson, discovered an open safe and papers strewn about the office of the store.

He summoned help and police from Broadmoor and South San Francisco and a Redwood City police dog squad responded.

Savage said the burlgar had planned everything well in advance and had shorted out the alarm system to allow his escape through a side door.

He added that the currency had been taken from cash drawers.

DALY CITY REPORTS TO ITS CITIZENS

MAYOR
Micheal R. De Bernardi

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR

CITY OF DALY CITY

75 WELLINGTON AVENUE
CALIFORNIA

March 4, 1964

Dear Fellow Citizens:

Growth and progress have become the keywords for Daly City--the Peninsula's fastest growing community. The year 1963 brought progress to every phase of municipal activity and unsurpassed growth in Daly City's land area.

With this growth and its accompanying challenge is the need and responsibility for prudent and far-reaching planning. Your City has undertaken extensive research, study and long range planning in all phases of community life.

These include:

1- Municipal facilities and capital improvements
2- A balanced and workable land use
3- Sound financial operation and administration
4- Efficient traffic circulation and transportation
5- Community protection and public safety

The ground work has been laid. Your City Council has accepted the challenge. The future is bright for Daly City, and we, as your Council, dedicate our best efforts to continuation of orderly growth and progress.

These pages bring the City's annual report to you. Space limitations permit only reflection on the highlights for the year, but we are equally proud of the city government's day to day activities.

Your evaluations and comments are invited, for it is through your interest and expression that we have guidance in meeting the City's needs.

Sincerely,

Micheal DeBernardi
Mayor

ADMINISTRATION AND PERSONNEL

The primary "tool" of the City Manager in the exercise of his responsibility for providing direction, control, and coordinaton to the city's activities, is the municipal budget. The 1963-4 budget was carefully designed to adequately meet all the needs of the city yet maintain the same property tax rate of $1.48.

During 1963 the Manager's office initiated planning, programming, and coordination for a new City Hall. A site has been selected and financing is presently being arranged without the need for issue of general obligation bonds.

The City Manager, as Director of Civil Defense, has the responsibility of providing leadership to the City's Civil Defense planning and preparation. A major accomplishment for Daly City's civil defense was the installation of a fully-equipped emergency hospital in the basement of Our Lady of Mercy School.

The City Manager's office serves as staff to the Personnel Board and administers all the activities of the Classified Service System. During the year the Personnel office filled 41 new positions (bringing the total full-time employees to 223) and also processed 240 temporary and part-time employees. A total of 1642 applications were received and processed during 1963.

During the course of the year numerous studies, surveys and research reports were prepared for the Mayor, the City Council and the Personnel Board so that they could more ably give policy direction to the City's greatly varied programs.

CITY ATTORNEY

City Attorney Paul Hupf attends all Council meetings and advises all departments of the city with respect to day-to-day operations.

During the past year a final draft of the new zoning ordinance was prepared, proofs were prepared for the proposed codification of all municipal ordinances by Mitchie Legal Publications, and eminent domain proceedings were conducted and completed to acquire eighteen parcels of land for the Knowles-Los Banos Street project.

Eminent domain proceedings were also instituted leading to the acquisition of a site for the proposed city hall.

CITY CLERK

The City Clerk keeps an accurate record duly attested of all proceedings of the City Council. By law, she is charged with the care and custody of all official records and of the official seal of the City. The Clerk administers all municipal elections, assists veterans in filing their claims for tax exemptions, and is Registrar of Voters.

1963 was a particularly busy year with the completion of five annexations and two annexation elections. All signatures on annexation petitions were individually checked and verified.

The City Clerk is responsible for all title documents for city-owned property. In 1963, the Clerk's office processed and accepted numerous parcels of property in connection with the Knowles-Los Banos projeet, the Bayshore Fire District property, expansion of recreation areas, and the acquisition of numerous grant deeds of right-of-way easements.

Property location and ownership records of all property in Bayshore City and other annexed areas were integrated into the city's official property records.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

The Finance Department completed programming of a new cost accounting system which provides significant additional cost informaton for municipal service program decisions. The department continued to strengthen its program of strict cash control so that active cash balances are held to a minimum at all times, enabling the City to keep a maximum amount in investment funds returning interest income to the city treasury.

Budgetary analyses and expenditure control reports to management and the City Council were increased, providing them with regular timely information on fiscal status. Refinements in the water department accounting and billing system have resulted in fewer collection delinquencies and enable the preparation of current statistical and reference information at less cost.

The Finance Director conducted research and study on proposed annexations, determining income and expenditure projections if these areas were to be annexed to the city. Complete and detailed reports were prepared on these studies.

PUBLIC WORKS

The Public Works Department is the most expansive department in municipal responsibilities. The divisions of this department are concerned with engineering planning, building and electrical inspection, city vehicle maintenance, streets, parks, city building maintenance, and the public water system.

During 1963 the building and electrical inspection staff processed more than 220 permits and inspections. Planning activities increased over previous years, included 39 applications for zoning changes and variances, 80 use permit applications, and 6 subdivision maps. Many hours were spent in the preparation of a completely new Zoning Ordinance which is presently being considered in public hearing.

Increases in Daly City's parks, lawns and boulevard planting strips brought the total area under the care and maintenance of the Parks Division to 33 acres, providing citizens with attractive municipal parks, lawns, shrubs and trees for recreation and aesthetic pleasure.

Numerous projects were undertaken by the department in conjunction with the construction of the Junipero Serra Freeway. Among these are the revision of traffic flow on Knowles and Los Banos Avenues, and the relocation of all utility lines in the area of freeway structures.

Over $36,000 was spent on resurfacing streets on a continuing program which will see all streets east of Junipero Serra resurfaced in six years.

To maintain the city's high standards for water quality, the Water Department engaged a continuing program of cleaning and sterilizing sumps, reservoirs, and pipe lines, and the cleaning and surging of wells. Addition of sandblast cleaning equipment has aided in accelerating the systematic maintenance cleaning and repair of water meters designed to assure the consumer of accurate charges and protect the city from revenue losses.

The City Electricians saved the city $30,000 by installing the Water Department's instrumentation system while still performing their usual routine electrical inspections and maintenance. This instrumentation system monitors reservoir levels, pressures, and pumps. Remote controls allow full control of the water system from one central location, with an alarm network to warn operators of any equipment malfunction.

The City Garage effected substantial savings to the city by performing overhauls, engine tuning, brake, transmission, and a multitude of other repair work on the city's 93 pieces of rolling equipment.

The Maintenance Division repainted a number of city facilities including the Westlake Library, the Citrus Pumping Station, the City Hall and the War Memorial Building.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Registered borrowers of the Daly City Library increased during 1963 to a total of 33,000, and volumes circulated rose to a new high of 294,163. The Library added a variety of materials to the collection numbering 3255 books and 1242 phonograph records. Two new sets of encyclopedias and a sizeable number of new reference books were added to the reference service at the John Daly Library.

During the year the Library Board of Trustees embarked on preliminary studies leading to a policy of expansion of library facilities and services. The Board sponsored a series of book reviews which featured several noted authors and librarians as keynote speakers.

The Friends of the Daly City Library with the cooperation of the library staff presented two general meetings, one a symposium on contemporary America and the second featuring Peace Corps librarian Robert Ragsdale.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The 1963 budget provided for the addition of ten new police officers to the force, thus keeping pace with the growth of the city. A new Communications Center was completed, providing the City with the best in communications facilities. Two new cars and one motorcycle were added to the department's complement of safety vehicles. The Patrol Section was expanded to six beats, increasing coverage to all parts of the city and increasing effectiveness and efficiency in crime prevention. A revision of departmental record-keeping was initiated to simplify records methods and to facilitate the increased police activity.

Training within the police service has shifted in emphasis from limited specialized courses to studies in the broader concepts of police enforcement, criminology and crime prevention. New personnel complete the course of study of the Basic Police Recruit School and then undertake a college - level curriculum aimed at a better understanding of police activity and the community. Of the 53 sworn officers in the Department, 10 have degrees from recognized colleges, and an additional 24 have undertaken college work. A departmental senior officer is currently enrolled in the F.B.I. National Police Academy in Washington, D. C.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

In 1963, the Daly City Fire Service was increased by 14 men providing the best in fire safety and protection to the citizens. The Department answered 1784 alarms during the year, which was an increase of 54 over the previous year. The fire loss, however, was lower than for the previous four years.

As an adjunct to the annexation of the Bayshore Area, the Fire Department absorbed the Bayshore Fire District, expanding city fire service into that area.

The Department maintains a high level in-service training program utilizing, among others, the fine training course offered by the U. S. Navy at Treasure Island. In addition, 20 firemen are enrolled in related courses at San Mateo College, completing these studies on their own time.

During 1963, the Fire prevention Bureau inspected 500 commercial buildings and 190 residential dwellings. The Bureau's public safety program included more than 50 school fire drills and the distribution of thousands of fire safety brochures to school children. Hours of organization and planning were spent in preparation for Fire Service Day, Spring Cleanup, and a number of successful programs during Fire Prevention Week.

The Fire Alarm section extended fire alarm box service into all new areas of the city, bringing the total of alarm boxes to nearly 300. Fifty automatically controlled radio units have been installed in the homes of firemen, facilitating instantaneous communication with firemen "on call."

RECREATION DEPARTMENT

The programs of the Recreation Department are designed to provide activities for all ages and to suit a great variety of interests.

The summer schedule of supervised playground activities featured a number of highlights. The Teenage Drama Club was organized in 1963 for those interested in stage productions. A number of high school students participated in class sessions on music interpretation, music and dancing, and modern jazz. Two special events of the summer were the excursions to Angel Island and Mt. Tamalpais. These occasions provided new experiences in hiking and a ferry boat ride.

A joint effort of the Recreation Department and the Daly City Lions Club was the Watermelon Feed at the Annual Junior Olympics Day. Over two tons of watermelons were consumed by eager participants.

The department sponsors a number of athletic programs. Two new features in 1963 were the initiation of a Pee Wee Baseball League for boys between the ages of 8 and 10, and instruction classes in tennis.

Daly City has received wide recognition for the presentations of the Community Chorus, which is an activity for all ages. The highlight of the year was a half-hour show at the request of a local television station.

The 1963 Christmas Festival was entirely a departmental program incorporating the talents of several recreation groups. Over 160 people took advantage of the beginning and advanced square dance classes held weekly for all age groups.

The Daly City Teen Club program is continually "on the go." Two snow trips highlighted the year's schedule, which also included a carnival, several dances, and the Springfest featuring awards for various phases of competition.

OFFICE OF THE CITY MANAGER
CITY OF DALY CITY
75 WELLINGTON AVENUE
CALIFORNIA

February 17, 1964

Honorable City Council
City of Daly City
California

Gentlemen:

The accompanying reports briefly summarize the major activities of the several City departments for the past year. I am proud to submit these reports to you, marking the end of a highly successful year.

Many major capital improvement projects were completed during 1963, enhancing the community's municipal facilities for recreation, leisure, water utility, and traffic circulation. Many of the day to day housekeeping activities were expanded, keeping pace with modern trends and the growth of the City.

The enclosed financial summary indicates that the municipal economy continues to increase in efficiency and stability. Modern operating procedures and patterns now firmly established provide the means to a systematic and capable fulfillment of the community's needs.

Daly City has entered the 1964 calendar year with many major projects on the planning board. The "City Family" is looking forward with eagerness to another promising year.

Sincerely,

Edward Frank

By LE PACINI

IT'S SWIMMING season again in the North Peninsula League, and we make this grand announcement, which you could have checked on any NPL sports calendar, only because it affords this writer a chance to make the safest prediction—and possibly the only right one—he has ever made.

So here's the prediction: Oceana's varsity swimming team will definitely be improved. And we say this without even having checked the squad out with coach Jess Jones.

Oh, give those roses to your favorite charity ward. Stop your sighs of adulation.

Really, it's nothing.

We don't possess a crystal ball, and we mean no affront in not having talked with Jones about this prediction beforehand. Why, we haven't even so much as seen any member of the Shark swim squad attempt to traverse a puddle.

And we're certainly not that courageous—or that crazy.

It's just that Oceana is BOUND to improve this year, varsity swim-wise.

Last year, you see, Jones had a one man varsity "team." Oh, he was fairly well stocked in the "C" and "B" classifications and the swimmers gave pretty good accounts of themselves.

But a lonely boy named Dave Gates made up the entire varsity roster.

Strangely, Gates usually managed to pick up a relatively respectable number of points for the Shark "varsity" — usually in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle races.

As you can imagine, Oceana always had to forfeit several events in varsity competition. Gates may have been exceptional, but, being no superman, his little heart couldn't have stood all those events—unless the opposing coaches would have been willing to wait several days between races, occasionally.

While being the varsity team may have been a lonely job for Gates (who could he talk over the matches with at day's end—being his own teammate and all), it had its compensations.

Like, for instance, Gates holds every Shark varsity swim record (last year was Oceana's first in the NPL), and it must have been great knowing those cheer leaders and yells were only for him.

Some of Dave's records will undoubtedly fall this year and he'll have to share the pompon girls. But he will have company in the pool and the satisfaction of knowing he pioneered varsity swimming at Oceana.

WHILE SWIMMING'S in mind, Mrs. Loretta Larson, woman's physical education instructor at Terra Nova, is also in mind.

Mrs. Larson, who teaches a lot of swimming at TN, is well placed. She has more titles than 1 Anthony Armstrong-Jones—swimming titles, that is.

If you don't recognize the name, it may be because she garnered all of her honors while being Miss Loretta Barrious, one title she was legally compelled to relinquish when she married Mr. Larson last summer.

While swimming for the Athens Athletic Club in Oakland, Mrs. Larson was national A.A.U. synchronized swimming team champion from 1954 to 1960.

Our steel-spring mind quickly computes that had she just won another of these titles through to 1961, she would have had as many hand-running national titles as Ty Cobb had consecutive American League batting titles.

She was also on the team which took the synchronized swimming title in the 1955 Pan American games and later went on to win the national synchronized championship in Mexico.

In 1956, her team exhibited in the Melbourne Olympics.

Add to this, many triumphs as a member of the San Francisco State College synchronized swim team and several solo championships when she was swimming under junior classification, and if she were a soldier, she'd be weighted down with ribbons dangling to her knees.

IT'S SAID teachers should travel to broaden their experiences and gain practical knowledge of the world. Mrs. Larson certainly qualifies as a teacher in this respect.

She's graced Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Guam, Wake Island, Iwo Jima (she only swam there, didn't storm any beaches), India (she met Nassar), Egypt, Pakistan, Ceylon, Indonesia, Iran, Australia, New Zealand, France, Italy, Spain, England, the Netherlands, Denmark, Switzerland, Scotland, Hawaii, Sweden, the Fiji Islands, Crete, Belgium (where her team exhibited at the 1956 World's Fair in Brussels), and, last but not least, Sausalito.

She's also met many dignitaries beside Nassar. Like Jack LaLanne. Need we go further?

A graduate of Oakland Tech High, class of 1956, and San Francisco State, 1960 (P.E. major, English minor), Mrs. Larson modestly says that probably her most memorable travel experience was also the silliest thing that ever happened to her.

She and the team were exhibiting one night in front of an audience of G.I.'s, and were preceded on the program by a clown act.

One of the clowns left his floppy hat floating in the water when he left the pool, Loretta didn't notice it, swung gracefully up from the pool's depths in what had been designed to be a really dramatic "entrance"—and ended up with the hat sitting atop her head.

She stopped the show.

ONE LAST swimming note. Terra Nova's new swimming coach is Rawlin Trimble, who also happens to be the school's electric shop teacher.

We hope Rawlin remembers to dry his feet before he goes walking around his shop.

Sharks Try a Big Jump

From Loop Cellar to Contender

By RON BATES

IT'S A LONG JUMP from the cellar to the position of contender, but the Oceana Sharks, in their second year of varsity competition, will be trying to make it when they begin the NPL baseball season next month.

Coach Frank Lawler will have almost the same team back to try to improve a 1963 1-9 league record. He started with a "senior-less" team last year in a building attempt and some of the fruits of his labor should be evident in league competition this year.

To put them to the test, Lawler arranged a tough practice slate that includes such opponents as the frosh teams of the University of California, San Francisco State and Stanford.

Lawler hopes the tough competition will make league pitching seem easy.

THE "ALMOST SAME" team will be beefed up with some of the brighter prospects of last year's lightweights and two "old" pitchers who will be new to the league.

The two pitchers are Dave Breazeale and Ernie Brede. They started the season last year but saw little or no league action.

Breazeale, as a sophomore, had been one of two starters for the Terra Nova frosh-soph team and had a 1.07 ERA during last year's practice season. He had to drop from the team for personal reasons.

Brede, who had been one of the sluggers of the team, broke his leg after two league games.

The loss of the team's two top pitchers was a prime factor in the Sharks' cellar finish. Lawler is banking on the two players for the bulk of pitching duty this season.

Other hurling help will come from senior Don Helm, who took over the top pitching chores last year, and Mark Shepard, the team's best relief pitcher.

Lawler feels the pitching staff is "better than average" and should hold its own in league competition.

ANOTHER ADDITION to this year's team is Bill Reisen, a transfer student from Balboa. The versatile senior, a catcher-infielder-outfielder-will play "wherever we need him," Lawler said.

Reisen also wields a good bat and is the only Shark to have racked up extra bases on his hits so far this year.

Jim Maule, the only sophomore on the team, will be handling the key shortstop position and in doing so, can plug up another point that hurt the Sharks last season—defense.

Maule made the All-League lightweight team last year and the Oceana coaching staff feels he can hold down the varsity job and do it well.

One of the potential strengths of the Oceana team is hitting. Heading the hit parade should be Doug Rhodes, an All-NPL outfielder. Rhodes hit .325 last year and was third in the league behind Westmoor's Bruce Hix and South San Francisco's Neil McNevin in total number of hits.

Lawler expects Rhodes, Reisen, third baseman Dave Westphal and catcher Rich Bermudez to supply the base hits this season, while Brede, Maule, first baseman Steve Rentmeester and Helm supply the long ball.

Brede is all-league potential — not only because of his pitching and hitting ability but and because he is "one of the best defensive outfielders in the league," Lawler contends.

IN THE INFIELD it will be Rentmeester at first, Maule at shortstop, Westphal at third and any one of four men at second.

The four players trying out for second are Rich Smith, who had the job last year, Ken Oden, up from the frosh-soph, Barry Schivo and possibly Reisen.

"Whoever produces with the bat gets the job," Lawler said and noted that the four are of equal ability otherwise.

In the outfield with Rhodes and Brede will be veteran John Perry or Al Morris, up from the frosh-soph, or Bruce Allen, a junior transfer student.

Bob Folger is trying for Westphal's job at third while Brook Davis Jr., a transfer student from Oxnard, is trying to edge out Maule at shortstop. Dave King is fighting for the catcher's slot.

Looking at the rest of the league, Lawler said El Camino and South San Francisco have to be tabbed as the preseason favorites.

"Any club that beats them will have a chance of taking the title," he said. "If we get a few breaks we can do it."

The Sharks will open against the Colts at El Camino April 17.

3-3 DEADLOCK

Darkness Stops Jeff, Carlmont

Darkness claimed a victory over Jefferson and Carlmont Friday as the two teams battled to a 3-3 nine-inning deadlock in a practice baseball game.

The Indians' Tolio Soliata pitched nine innings for Jefferson and drove in two of his team's three runs.

Jefferson jumped to an early lead in the first inning with Pete Berry and Mike Gutierrez drawing walks. Soliata hit a long sacrifice fly scoring Berry and advancing Gutierrez to third.

Outfielder Jerry Sullivan blasted a single and drove Gutierrez in to give the Indians a 2-0 lead.

Carlmont came back with one run in the second and one run in the fourth to knot the count at 2-2.

In the seventh, straight singles by Jefferson's Ron Sawyer and Berry set up the third score. Soliata rifled Sawyer home with a sharp single to close out the Indians' scoring.

The game could have been wrapped up there, but in the bottom half of the inning Soliata gave up two singles and then balked, permitting Carlmont's Marv Stout to score.

Jefferson committed three errors while collecting four hits. Carlmont played errorless ball and had eight hits.

Rams Lose Short Tilt

Westmoor and Riordan played a rain - shortened five - inning baseball game Friday at Marchbanks Park but that was plenty of time for the Crusaders to compile a 5-0 lead before heading for the locker rooms.

Taking advantage of a Ram error and two off-field safeties, the winners shot to a 3-0 lead before picking up another brace of counters in the third.

Westmoor, on the other hand, could do nothing with Crusader pitching garnering but a single hit by Bruce Hix over the five frames.

Warrior, Jeff Swimmers Win

South San Francisco and Jefferson High Schools scored three-way sweeps in two North Peninsula League swimming meets last week.

Jefferson whipped Terra Nova 62-32, 58-18 and 48-20, in the varsity, Class B and Class C meets, while South San Francisco downed Oceana High School, 62-33, 62-15 and 40-28.

Colt Rally Falls Short

Shortstop Tom Nelson's two-run homer in the top of the seventh ruined a late game El Camino surge Friday afternoon and salvaged a 5-3 victory for the Serra Padres at South San Francisco.

Serra, jumping to a 3-0 lead after two innings, saw their advantage whittled away when the Colts came back with one in the third and two more in the sixth on a single, a double and a sacrifice fly.

1-Hitter Defeats Warriors

South San Francisco ran into a one-hit shutout at the hands of pitcher Guy Lockhart of Mills High School in a practice game last week.

The Vikings downed the Warriors, 2-0, at Orange Field. Lockhart drove in one of the runs.

While Lockhart was setting the Warriors down, his mates were banging out seven hits off Warrior pitchers.

Joe Fagnani opened the scoring in the second inning when he reached first on an error, went to third on Jeff Grimm's single and then came home when Lockhart singled.

Mills picked up the insurance run in the third frame when John Herron singled, went to second on a force out and came scurrying home on Bob South's safety.

How much longer can we hand you this line?

Forever, we hope.

Because nobody ever intends to change the Volkswagen's shape.

The only reason the Volkswagen is ever changed is to make it work even better.

The money that isn't spent on outside changes is spent inside the car.

This system provides an immense advantage: Time.

There's time to improve parts and still keep most of them interchangeable.

(Which is why it's so easy to get VW parts, and why our mechanics don't wake up screaming.)

There's time to put an immense amount of hand work into each VW, and to finish each one like a $6,000 machine.

And this system has also kept the price almost the same over the years.

Some cars keep changing and stay the same.

Volkswagens stay the same and keep changing.

Westmoor Wins Track Relays

The Westmoor Rams won the pre-season North Peninsula League track relays on a wind and rain swept El Camino field Friday afternoon, barely edging out Jefferson for the title.

The Rams picked up a total of 134½ points in three classes while the Indians totaled 131. South San Francisco was third with 119.

The relays saw four new records set in Class A, seven new marks in Class B and five in Class C.

Westmoor won the Class A title with 63 points. Jefferson and Terra Nova tied for second with 34 points.

In Class B, the Indians rolled up 50 points to edge South San Francisco, which tallied 45½ points.

In Class C, Jefferson again came out on top. The Indians tallied 47 points while South San Francisco rolled up 45½. Westmoor was third with 35 points.

A sudden downpour almost wiped out an accounting being kept of the relays.

El Camino track coach Doug Thomas spent the weekend deciphering soggy scoresheets before he was able to determine final scores.

The names of individual winners were not made available.

5TH GRADE

The PAL Bucs completed an undefeated season and won the Short Division championship by defeating the Holy Angels Hotshots 13-6.

Right behind the Bucs all through the season were the PAL Jaguars. They ended up with a 6 and 1 record, losing only to the Bucs.

In their final game, Dave Mibelli starred as they downed the PAL Grizzleys, 28-23. Mibelli dunked 10 and Mark D'Olivo hit eight. Marty Lemp and Steve Angell were high for the Grizzleys with six each.

FIFTH GRADE
LONG DIVISION

The OLM Bears cinched the championship by downing the PAL Pirates, 26-8.

Though the league still has another week to run, the Bears drew a bye and with their perfect 8-0 record, they don't have a worry. Dave Ewing came up as top man for the Bears this week, scoring 10 points. The OLPH Arrows walloped the BYA Ramblers, 31-4. The OLM Spartans surprised the PAL Cougars, coming out on the long end of a 15-12 score. Gary Lutringer hit 5.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

SPRING, WHICH arrived amid mounds of threatening clouds and a sprinkling of rain, continues to tease and make life miserable for those attempting to assemble an appropriate ensemble for the nation's annual fashion parade Sunday.

Not perturbed in the least by the vagaries of Mother Nature are members of Westlake's Senior Citizens group who will stage their own Easter Parade at noon today at the Community Baptist Church in Westlake.

Members of this club have been planning for some weeks now to make today a spectacular one and brilliant sunshine or weeping skies, it will be a gala occassion with everyone wearing chapeaux of great originality.

According to Willard Wagner, treasurer and publicity director, the hats will be judged in three categories: comedy, originality and best decorated. Prizes will be given to winners. Competition is expected to be keen and the members are looking forward to a good deal of joviality before the hats are judged and luncheon is served.

The Senior Citizens continue to fill a very real need in the community in a most adequate manner. Spearheaded by a group of progressive planners who couple their ideas with vitality and enthusiasm, this group continuously offers a wide range of program themes and interesting field trips — all conceived to help add interest to the lives of the many older people living in this area. Men and women who feel that they might enjoy sharing the fun and trips planned by this non-sectarian group should contact Wagner at PL 6-6235 for more information.

While the senior citizens have been preparing for their party, members of the Belletones have been sharing memories of the St. Patrick's Day gathering held in the home of choral director Patti Stolz.

Commencing with sparkling, green punch and not concluding until well after the final crumb of cake had disappeared, this was an afternoon to remember! Reportedly a luncheon and business meeting, the affair was actually much more a tribute to Mrs. Susan Boyd who has served as chorus accompanist for the past eight months and is now retiring.

"This Is Your Life, Susan Boyd" was the theme of the tribute and it came as quite a surprise to the guest of honor. Mrs. Stolz and her helpers entertained Mrs. Boyd while secretly, guests and paraphernalia arrived and were hidden away in the garage to appear later at the appropriate moment.

While tears flowed freely, letters were read from people who had been intimately associated with Mrs. Boyd's childhood. Her aunt, Mrs. Samuel Merchant, emerged from the garage to tell of her niece's many talents, and Virginia Church, director of the San Mateo County YWCA, appeared to tell of Mrs. Boyd's remarkable work in the Tiny Tots Nursery program. Husband Allan Boyd provided baby pictures, their wedding album and scrapbooks full of newspaper clippings. And son, Munro, appeared to share in the excitement.

Among those attending the luncheon were Mrs. Ann Eason, Mrs. Jack Baker, Mrs. Jackie Baker, Mrs. Jolyne Liberati, Mrs. Norma Infusino, Mrs. Nancy Gensley, Mrs. Betty Elliot, Mrs. Marie Ricetti, Mrs. Betty Toft, Mrs. Alice Walker, Mrs. Janet Holden, Mrs. Adela Zamora, Mrs. Betty Vincent, Mrs. Marge Somdahl, Mrs. Marilyn Bennett and Mrs. Marlene Alvarado.

Adding to the celebration was the announcement that the Boyds are expecting a second child and that Mrs. Zamora will become a mother for the third time this summer.

During a short business meeting that followed the luncheon, members of the Belletones voted to hold summer rehearsals during the daytime, beginning in June. According to Mrs. Stolz, it is hoped that this will enable many new singers to join the chorus. Persons wishing more information should contact Mrs. Stolz at JU 9-6070.

THE MEMBERS of the Beta Sigma chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority held their annual professional tea in the home of Mrs. Yvonne Moise Sunday afternoon and presented a check for $160 to the staff of the San Francisco Chapter of the National Association for Aid to the Visually Handicapped.

Mrs. Lois Orinte, chapter president, was co-hostess and presided over the presentation of the members of the 1964 pledge class.

Of special note was the absence of Vice President Margo Burpee who became Mrs. David Edward Egan during a ceremony in Old First Presbyterian Church in San Fancisco Saturday. The Egans will return to this area after a honeymoon in Southern California.

ENTERTAINING in her home this past weekend was Mrs. Walter Misterman of St. Francis Heights. Attending a delightful dessert party were Mrs. Louise Butchart, Mrs. Maria Intaschi, Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Jerry Benek, Mrs. Pat McCauliffe, Mrs. Shirley Anthenien, Mrs. Rita Folley, Mrs. Gloria Holmberg, Mrs. Barbara Botta, Mrs. Ann Reagon and Mrs. Della Divers.

TICKETS are already being sold to a dinner-dance being given April 11 by the members of the Holy Angel's Women's Guild. Tickets, costing $4 per person, are available to those calling Mrs. James Sharpen, PL 5-9711, or Mrs. Ray Fellman, PL 5-2127.

Daly City volunteers for the 1964 Cancer Crusade are beginning to organize for April's all important campaigm to collect funds and distribute information on cancer and the American Cancer Society, according to Mrs. Robert Waegner, the society's Daly City chairman.

Among those who have already accepted appointments as division chairmen are Mrs. Arthur Dikas, Mrs. M. A. Liston, Mrs. Kevin Donovan, Mrs. Pierce Ruseling, Mrs. Norman Maxwell, Mrs. H. B. Cardoza, Mrs. Norman Banfield, Mrs. Avelino Gil and Mrs. Anne Eason.

According to Mrs. Waegner, solicitation of funds will be carried on by the Westlake Chapter of A. Z. A., a youth group functioning under the leadership of Charles Likerman, chairman of the chapter's community service committee.

More volunteers are needed if the drive is to be a successful one and persons wishing to donate time and talent are urged to contact one of the division chairmen, Mrs. Waegner said.

James Hill, an instructor at San Francisco State College, will be the featured speaker at a meeting at Fernando Rivera Elementary School Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

He will report on a study involving hundreds of children to determine what relationship, if any, exists between the maturation of a child at a specific grade level and the knowledge he has of the generalization selected for study.

Also included in the study is the terminology necessary to the understanding of generalizations crucial to the social studies program, and the ability to apply the generalizations to situations that are either new or have novel aspects so far as the student is concerned.

The meeting is open to the public.

Slim and trim are the watchwords for men's trousers and slacks. Spring's pants will be slightly shorter and combine with high-rise and boot stylings in shoes.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Nonon

SUNDAY is Easter and all the little bunnies in our homes will be feasting on hard-cooked eggs and chocolate chickens. To consider anything as mundane as Easter dinner is a waste of time, as far as the children are concerned. "But man does not live on chocolates alone" — or some such saying — so we must think about dinner.

Most of us serve ham at Easter—though there's no law that we have to, is there? Lamb or beef or whatever your family prefers is the entree to choose.

In case your family prefers beef, how about serving Yorkshire pudding with it? This really is delicious and sets off a roast of beef like nothing else can.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING

1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
2 eggs
Drippings from roast beef

Mix flour and salt. Combine eggs and milk, add to flour and salt mixture, and beat well with rotary egg beater until smooth. Pour hot beef drippings into square shallow pan to depth of one inch. Place this pan in oven on shelf under the roast and allow it to become very hot. Then pour the pudding mixture into this sizzling grease. Bake for 45 minutes in hot oven (400 degrees).

Be sure to time your meal so you will be ready to serve when your Yorkshire pudding is finished. For it's one of those dishes that requires quick serving to be at its best.

NOW IF your family prefers ham or lamb—this pineapple relish goes nicely with either meat. The recipe comes from the cookbook I mentioned last week called "Clarendon Cooks" and printed by the P-TA of Clarendon School in San Francisco. Mrs. Ricka Lee Robinow submitted this recipe and it is delicious. And it is as appealing to the eye as to the taste buds.

PINEAPLE RELISH

1 can pineapple chunks (No. 2½ size)
¾ cup cider vinegar
1 cup sugar
6 whole allspice
6 cloves
2 three-inch pieces cinnamon
dash of salt
green food coloring

Drain pineapple. Combine vinegar, sugar, spices and salt in a saucepan. Cook 10 minutes; add pineapple and bring to a hard boil. Remove from heat and add food coloring. Cool and store in refrigerator.

About the amount of food coloring—I just added a little bit, stirred and added more until it reached the color that pleased my eye. But don't make it too dark. You want it to look cool and springy.

NOW IF YOU have some of that ham left over—and who doesn't—the most economical way to use up the last delicious bit is to grind it up in your food grinder for ham salad—or for a ham loaf.

Mrs. Jane Egan, who lives at 23 Castillejo Drive in Daly City, was kind enough to share this recipe for ham loaf with us.

CARMEL HAM LOAF

1 lb. ground ham
½ lb. ground beef
1 cup quick oats
¾ cup evaporated milk
1 egg, beaten

Grease lightly a two pound loaf pan. Press brown sugar and whole cloves into pan. Combine ham, ground meat, oats, milk and egg and mix thoroughly. Place in loaf pan and bake in 375-degree oven for one hour. Turn out onto serving platter.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear. Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 14 years old and I feel I am old enough to pick out my own clothes and go to teenage dances. My parents do not agree. My mother picks out my clothes and says I'm too young and would pick the wrong type because I don't like what she buys me.

I like peg pants and she says no. I have friends who go to teen dances and she says no. What can I do?

Mr. 14

Dear Mr. 14:

You are right. You should pick out your clothes and go to dances. Your parents should realize you are not a baby any more and have a mind of your own.

This I feel is the biggest fault with parents today. They refuse to let their children grow up. They refuse to realize that there is a young adult age group between 13 and 21 that is the most important age group of their lives.

Parents must let their kids make their own lives. They can't be buying clothes for them the rest of their lives. You can only hang on to your baby so long — then you must give way to the young adult who has a mind of his own and decisions to make and growing up to do.

And all this cannot be done if he is not allowed to try and fail on his own. Let him make mistakes. I feel that "mistakes are the steps in the stepladder to success."

An adult cannot pick out clothes for today's teen-agers. They know what is in style for their group and no matter what your objection, your teen-ager wants to be in with the crowd. There is nothing wrong with that.

If he or she does not dress in style, they are not accepted by the rest of the teen-agers and there is nobody more unhappy than a teen-ager who is left out. So parents — leave them pick their own clothes and go to dances and let them grow up.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 16 and have a problem. I have a step-father and he favors my little brother over me. This is really obvious even to my friends. I am a somewhat popular girl and have many dates.

He is constantly making nasty cracks and I feel he really goes out of his way to pick on me.

He wants me to call him Dad. I told him I have a father and he has been angry ever since. All I want is to be treated nicely and be left alone. How can I tell him all this.

J. B. C.

Dear J. B. C.:

You sound kind of super-sensitive. He is probably just trying to be a father in the best way he can. Look at his side of the picture. It is pretty hard walking into a ready-made family. He must love your mother very much to accept all this.

As for your comment, it sounds like something out of a very cheap magazine. And not something to be very proud of. You must have hurt him very much.

Perhaps the fault is not in him but rather in you. You should start being nice to him and then I'm sure it will rub off on him.

Stop sounding off like a little pratty, f e e l-sorry-for-yourself cinderella.

Begin by changing your attitude. Be extra nice no matter how you feel. Pretty soon you'll notice a big change in him, too. Give him a chance. He is the one with the problem. Why not help him instead of hurt him.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or issue you'd like me to discuss, or if you'd like me to address your club or group, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

north county COMMENT

Business Was Never Better

ON A SINGLE DAY this month, the office of the county recorder reported two major land transactions in the northern part of San Mateo County with a total of more than $11 million dollars changing hands.

At the end of last month Dunn & Bradstreet listed 34.9 per cent more businesses in the county during 1963 than in 1953. The increase over the decennial period was 1,467 businesses. The 34.9 percentage gain becomes even more illuminating when it is compared with an average gain of 47 Northern California counties of 4.2 per cent, and a 2.7 per cent gain for the nine Bay Area counties, during the same period.

From still another quarter, the San Mateo County Development Association reported that, in 1963 alone, the industrial gain was 155 plant units with estimated capital expenditure of close to $20 million dollars.

THE INESCAPABLE conclusion to be drawn from all this is that the business climate of San Mateo County is not only excellent, but, indeed, we never had it so good

The figures seem to effectively dispose of some recent contentions that there has been a deterioration of the business climate here due to increased tax assessments and high labor costs. Obviously, the new business and industrial enterprises located within the county did not find these asserted obstacles to be discouraging.

Those who do profess to see a deterioration of business climate by reason of taxation and wage costs must surely, also, see that taxation and wage costs are an inevitable concomitant of a booming local economy. As desirability increases values are enhanced, and in the case shown by the startling figures here, more than enough to offset any losses.

Such tax increases as those that have been imposed within the county represent increases due to rising real property and improvement valuations. By assessment formula they are always less than market value so they, in fact, represent real and appreciable gains.

WITH RESPECT to wage costs it is necessary to remember that this county has always prided itself on the extremely high grade and skilled character of its working people, be they executives, technicians or mechanics. It is the existence of this kind of a worker pool, which prefers to live here, that has attracted new business to the county and keeps on attracting it.

The competition for this quality of workers does tend to raise costs, but this is normal business course of conduct and is certainly not unexpected. Moreover, it contributes to the increasing supply of top-rank workers as they come here from elsewhere, and it contributes to the very advantage sought by businesses when they have come here.

Both wages and taxation are a reflection of local economy as it prospers with benefit to all.

The business climate of San Mateo County?

Never better, thank you.

Miss Daly City of 1955

ROSALINE REINSTRA became Daly City's second beauty queen when she won the title of Miss Daly City in 1955. She was chosen over four other candidates. A graduate of Westmoor High School, she married Robert Tognoli in 1957. He's an automotive engineer. The couple live in the St. Francis Heights section of Daly City with their children, Matthew, 5, Michael, 4, and Lorraine, 2. This year's Miss Daly City pageant will be held June 10. Preliminary judging will be May 22. The contest will be sponsored again by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Time Out for Testimonials

Ron Bates

DALY CITY'S civic and business leaders took time out last week to honor two of their number.

A testimonial dinner for former Daly City Mayor Joe Verducci was given Monday at the Bunker Room and the Chamber of Commerce held a luncheon honoring its treasurer of 11 years, Bill Sweeney Jr., Thursday at the Friar Room.

Verducci defied his doctor's orders not to go to the dinner. He had been fighting the flu the previous week while saying: "No flu bug is going to get me down."

But it did, and the weekend before the dinner he was home in bed with a fever hovering around 103 degrees.

Friends also urged the ailing coach not to go, to send a representatives, but Verducci said he had to.

The Bunker Room owners, Jack Elsdon and Gene Zerga, closed the restaurant doors to regular customers to hold the private dinner with everything going to Verducci's campaign for supervisor.

Even the hired hands—the waitresses, the bartenders, the busboys and the cooks—donated their time and days off to the campaign.

"I wouldn't be able to show my face here, if I didn't come after what they did," he groaned at the dinner.

The testimonial, emceed by Judge Frank Blum, was short and sweet and Verducci was hustled away and quickly put back to bed.

JEAN FASSLER, by the way, Pacifica's own candidate for supervisor, will kick off the main part of her campaign with a testimonial dinner Thursday, April 2, at the Thunderbird Hotel.

Two of the four co-chairmen of the dinner are San Carlos Councilman Tom Jenkins and San Mateo Councilman Van Gunday.

As an indication of the level on which the campaign is being waged by the two North County candidates, the Fassler committee has invited Verducci to the dinner.

Verducci commented: "As long as they invited me, I'll go," and wrote out a $10 check to pay for his ticket.

THE LUNCHEON honoring Sweeney was one of the warmest and friendliest this reporter has attended in the past year and a half.

Postmaster Vince Murphy started off the friendly banter in his introductory remarks as chairman of "Bill Sweeney Jr. Day." He cracked:

"Bill became treasurer because he was the only one of the bunch we could trust."

Murphy then turned the meeting over to Chamber Manager Pete Markovich, the master of ceremonies, who began to introduce some of the distinguished guests.

After he introduced Ed Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson High School District, Morgan quipped: "The district is proud to claim the honored person as one of its students. But we don't take credit for today's master of ceremonies."

To which Markovich rejoined: "That's O.K. We got Ed from one of those small country school districts. It was so small we had to make him put shoes on to take the job."

IN A MOMENT of reminiscence after he was eulogized by his friends, Sweeney, who was Markovich's catcher when they played for the Jefferson Indians several decades ago, said Markovich was one of the best pitchers Jefferson ever had.

He compared Markovich's fast ball to a snail walking down the first base line from home plate.

Guests at the luncheon included Sweeney's wife, his father Judge Bill Sweeney Sr. and his daughter, Rosanne.

IT WAS CHRISTMAS in March, or more appropriately, Chanukah, at the dedication dinner last week of Temple Judea. Playing Santa Claus was no one else but Henry Doelger, developer of Westlake and Fairmont. His company had built the new synagogue.

Doelger was among 265 persons who attended the dinner, held to raise $10,000 for the temple building fund. When the total came up to only $7,000, Doelger, who had earlier been given a plaque for his contributions to the congregation, pulled out his checkbook and made up the difference.

Prototype Of Tragedy

Barbara Bladen

"DEATH OF A SALESMAN" is undobtedly one of the ten best plays of the generation. It is also a prototype of the great American tragedy: disillusionment. Arthur Miller's emotion-packed drama is being expressed in deeply moving style by the Millbrae Players at 255 Broadway, weekends through April 4.

It deals with death; not mortal but death of an ideal, a way of life, an era, a dream. Every high school and college student should be required to read and see it because it presents such a cohesive, pathetic and crushing picture of a man who tries to live up to an image he believes is all-American but which defeats him like an enemy of promise.

The Peninsula production is excellently cast and directed by Henry Stein. It is the aesthetic and intellectual mating of playwright and actors interlaced with spectators' sympathy. The play alone is a masterpiece of understanding: the production is its voice, the instrument through which Miller reaches into the heart of every person in the theatre. His theme leaves a sadness there.

No director could even consider doing "Salesman" if he did not have a good Willy Loman. That's the first consideration and its a considerable one. Henry Stein has Frank Babcock and that's a qualified recommendation for a quality performance.

THE HERO of Miller's cynical drama is a common man. He's beaten by forces and values he revered. He sells himself on an exaggerated belief a good salesman finds favor with the gods of success, respectability, and popularity. The reward for faithful obeisance to the public he thinks is being able to call mayors by their first names, having friends in the territory and a lot of mourners at one's funeral when the so-called "good life" is ended.

The bitter realization that he cannot keep pace with the times, not being able to sell enough to amply support the household and that his sons are bums destroy his spirit and faith with cancerous deterioration. Only suicide releases him from the paralysis of failure and in the end there is no one but family to care at his passing.

Babcock feels this man's grief. It shows in his stooped shoulders, his measured footsteps, his desperate smile. He speaks the lines in plain style and draws a pathetic picture as one who goes to his fate without knowing exactly why it has overtaken him.

Bart Jones and Jack Buster, respectively, portray Biff, the popular college athlete who never makes the grade and Happy, who can't settle down and takes life as a "ball," with conviction. These are key roles and reflect good judgment in casting and acting.

It's regrettable that the Peninsula won't support a repertory Theatre. Productions such as this one shouldn't have limited runs but should be available for repeated attendance. I'd rather see one good play like this four times a year, than 40 of less style, force and quality.

THE HOLIDAY season is a month long gone, but entertaining on the grand style—guests, that is, and elaborate family dinners—if only once a week, are a permanent part of the California scene, the year round.

Two important additions to the California housewife's (and host's) library of recipes and ideas are Sunset's Cookbook of Breads and Cookbook of Desserts.

Breads and desserts can make the complete dinner—the finishing touch to and after the main course.

There is an exciting variety of recipes for basic and unusual breads and clear directions describing each step in Cookbook of Breads.

These are particaularly appealing in the winter and spring seasons. Included are basic yeast and quick breads; sourdough and variety breads; sweet yeast breads, brioche, Danish pastries, coffee cakes, stollen, popovers, scones, panetone holiday breads, pancakes, biscuits and muffins.

These are a challenge to Dad, if he fancies himself as a kitchen expert.

Letters

To The Editor:

Finally, someone has come up with the favorable idea of extending municipal bus service into Daly City.

The recently won fare increase by the Northgate Transit Jitney buses has not improved the poor transportation problem one iota.

Some of these buses are absolutely too low for the taller people to walk up into without having to crouch.

Or, if no seats are available, these folks have to stand in a hunched position. The schedules are helter skelter, or anybody's guess.

It is time the committee and council got something concrete done about this situation.

I was pleased to read that they are trying, and I am sure all Daly City residents are praying for results this time.

The poor transportation, plus raise in fare, has discouraged much unnecessary travel.

This could decrease shopping in these areas. Better transportation makes a better community.

Mendocino Re-Visited

Don Miller

A LITTLE MORE than a year ago, we stepped into the past by visiting what we're convinced is one of the most beautiful and appealing of all California coastal communities—Mendocino, a former lumbering center that since the days of her glory has seemed determined not to slip into the mainstream of jet-age California.

Mendocino, with its nineteenth century architecture and nature-blessed setting of rugged ocean shoreline, rolling pastures and tall, majestic pines, appeared to be just beyond reality.

For it seemed difficult to believe that only 167 miles from our urban center of three-million that a rustic, quaint—and above all, quiet—town the likes of Mendocino, could exist to this day without being overrun with the motoring public.

It seemed almost too good to believe that this old lady by the sea was for real. Rather, it seemed that Mendocino was going to be increasingly "discovered."

And with such a discovery, the serenity that lines the old lady's face would surely fade into rather harried-looking wrinkles.

Well, we're relieved to report a year later that Mendocino has not rushed headlong into tomorrow.

Rather, with the stern stuff of her lumbermen-fishermen founders were made of, she resisted gently but firmly any radical transition—despite an almost unprecedented glare of publicity from a noted national magazine, a huge-circulation Southern California daily and a melange of other publications.

THE CHANGES you see in Mendocino are more subtle than pronounced and although you had quickly aligned yourself with those who insisted that Mendocino must NOT change, you cannot but approve of the way in which the town is evolving into the art and retirement center it is.

For one thing, Mendocino looks brighter today—not in a brassy or ostentatious vein but along clean, straightforward lines—all this despite the lack of any zoning regulations.

The refurbishing and restoring of her fine, sturdily built Victorian homes and English seaside cottages, begun some five years ago, has progressed to a point where the town no longer has a deserted look.

The real estate boom that has accompanied Mendocino's march back from obscurity has seen the number of houses and lots for sale dwindle steadily during the past five years.

The town has bounced back from a population of 500 a few years ago (it once was the home of 30,000) to a community of more than 1,200 persons—most of them retired folk and artists or just those who find Mendocino's sea setting an irresistible vacationland.

The one fact that predominates even more today than it did a year ago is the evolution of Mendocino as an important art center. During our previous visit, we counted a half dozen art galleries. Today, you can browse through 14—including the town post office, which, as it did a year ago, still boasts a number of paintings.

In addition, the Mendocino Art Center, around which much of the community's life revolves, has exceeded the fond hopes of its founders and has begun a new wing that is being rushed to completion in time for the center's annual summer program of art classes—being conducted in conjunction with Sonoma State College.

ASIDE FROM this addition and the continued restoration of old homes, perhaps the most interesting development in Mendocino over the past year has been the reopening of the historic Mendocino Hotel—situated on the southern edge of town in a row of art galleries and quaint shops, facing a cove and shoreline washed by the broad sweep of the Pacific.

The hotel, erected in 1873, was one of a dozen or so that flourished when Mendocino was in its prime. The others faded as lumbering faded (the last mill ceased operating 20 years ago) and after a while, only the Mendocino Hotel remained.

In the past year, it has been purchased by Heritage House, an elegant seaside hotel a few miles south, and the transformation under new ownership has been striking.

The tumble-down, cluttered fire trap of a year ago has been imaginatively transformed into a rather quaint inn with—so far—a pleasing combination of the old and the new.

Each Sunday, to lend an air of the past to the setting, management brings around to the front of the hotel a spruced-up surrey that for years had collected dust inside the hotel bar—a seemingly incongurous place for such a conveyance except for the fact that it was only one of hundreds of mementoes of the past that once had filled the bar.

THE ASPECT of Mendocino that hasn't changed in the past year is the town's greatest asset—the lack of any pace.

There is still no night life to speak of and this is as it should be. Nighttime is still a time of magic in Mendocino. The street lights are few. The traffic all but disappears. Bay windows and stained-glass windows glow softly.

And still the only sound you hear is the thunder of surf in the distance—the eternal music of the sea, a symphony that has been playing long before Mendocino ever was and for that matter, long after it will have been.

Peninsula Panorama

The Pursuit of Nail-Polishing

George Whitesell

PENINSULANS are great ones for polish jobs. This ranges all the way from polishing the apple to putting a high gloss on the family galoppie.

The polish furniture, silverware, jewelry, bowling alleys and kitchen sinks.

But the biggest polish job of all—thereby hangs a nail.

There is even a certain amount of polishing bald heads until they shine like a cue ball.

The biggest selling polish on the Peninsula is nail polish and far more time is devoted to polishing fingernails than to any other sort of shining, buffing and furbishing.

This is almost wholly a feminine pursuit.

A great many men are very particular about keeping their nails trim and shapely. A few of them employ a buffer for a soft natural shine. But men who go for a real polish job on the pinkies are very rare and may have merely wanted a manicurist to hold their hand for a while.

But the great majority of Peninsula women are addicted to nail polish in greater or lesser degree and the number of woman-hours devoted to nail-polishing must take, in total, a fabulous amont of time.

NO MERE MAN can catalogue what goes into a feminine polish job, but it is a major project that both working girls and housewives frequently have to split into installments.

The housewife grabs time wherever she can find it between the chores of housekeeping and babyminding.

The working girl sometimes surreptitiously cadges a little time from the boss for some of the preliminaries.

There are a lot of preliminaries. Get-a new paint job.
preparation as stripping down an auto for ting the nails ready for the new polish entails just about as much detail and

FIRST MOVE is to get rid of the old polish.

There are two methods of doing this. Many women cannot resist peeling off the old polish a bit at a time, a practice which often gives them a sort of unbalanced look with one hand pallid and peeled while the other still has polish on it.

In the end, however, it is necessary to use polish remover. This is a liquid best used in the open air owing to the fact that it has a fragrance roughly akin to synthetic polecat oil.

Often a girl gets stuck at this point and has to suffer going around with just natural fingernails for a couple of days.

After the old polish is off there is a choice of two routes.

Commonly, at this point, the nails are trimmed, filed, dressed with an emery board, and an orangestick used to adjust cuticle.

But there is an alternate route of preceding this with the use of cuticle remover. This is a preparation that sometimes ranks with polish remover for bad odor.

Either way it is done, both of these steps must be followed before the final, and critical stage, is reached.

Contrary to what one might think, this is the selection of what polish will be used.

IT IS NOT UNUSUAL for a woman to have different hues and shades. About five of these at least 20 miniature bottles of nail polish in will be useable, and the rest dried up or too thick to use.

This does not make any appreciable difference because it is a good bet she will go out and buy a new shade each time, anyhow. She may never use it again, but she will keep it like a treasure and give it due consideration each time she "does" her nails.

The final stage is application of the polish. This is touchy work that totally moves the gal out of circulation for an hour or more. She may use as many as three coats of this lacquer-polish and a single miscue can impel her to take it all off and start over again.

In the end, when her nails are glistening and beautiful, and when she is ready to step out on the town in sure knowledge her nails are impeccable in appearance —what does she do? She puts on a pair of gloves—thats' what.

Acid Fumes Hinder SSF Firefighters

South San Francisco battled dangerous acid and cyanide fumes to control a fire at the United Plating Works at 23 South Linden Avenue Friday night.

According to Fire Chief John Marchi it took gas masked firemen 15 minutes to bring the fire under control and two hours to extinguish it completely.

According to Marchi, the fire was discovered by a private patrolman after it had broken through the roof of the plant shortly before 10 p.m.

By the time three engine companies and a ladder truck arrived on the scene flames were shooting from 10 to 15 feet into the air.

An adjacent plant, Bay Cities Foundries, was filled with smoke.

For the Belle of the Ball

MISS DALY CITY, Claudia Smith, is besieged with tickets to the Annual Fireman's Ball to be held May 23 at the War Memorial Community Center. Tickets now on sale for one dollar at all Daly City fire stations. The dance is sponsored by the Widows and Orphans Association of the Daly City Fire Department. Al Borelli and his orchestra will provide the music and Miss Daly City will draw the winning number for the door prizes to be given. Chairman is Frank Tardelli. The anxious firemen trying to give Claudia a ticket are left to right, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, Volunteer Captain Sam San-Filippo and George Debono.

Alec Stores End Member Requirement

The Alec Membership Shopping Center at D Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard in Colma, as well as other Bay Area Alec stores, will drop membership requirements, effective today.

Doors will be open to the general public.

According to company officials, the move was approved by both the board of directors and shopper-members who voted by a 4 to 1 margin to open the doors to all customers and cease membership fees.

Alec Land, president of Alec stores, said the elimination of both membership fees and bonus points will make possible greater operating efficiency.

Service will be speeded at check stands as membership identification no longer will be needed.

Land said that bonus purchase points earned during the last three months of last year are being distributed as usual.

Points earned up to the end of this month will be mailed by the end of April. Accrued bonus points will be honored for purchases throughout 1964, he added.

Westmoor Whirl

By SUE SHERMAN

FOUR WESTMOOR High School student musicians performed in the 1964 Solo-Ensemble Musical Festival, sponsored by the California Music Educators' Association, in Sunnyvale. Students from the counties of San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara demonstrated their abilities by performing either in instrumental or vocal solos and ensembles.

Junior Larry Blake earned a superior rating and command performance for his trumpet solo, "Farewell, My Granada." This Spanish number was made famous by Rafael Mendez, Larry's favorite performer in the classical field.

Chuck Brickley received an excellent rating for his alto-saxaphone solo, "Canzonetta" and "Giga" by Leroy Ostransky.

Donny LeFurgy, who recently moved to Westmoor from Sacramento, was rated excellent for her performance of "Minuet D'Artesienne," by Bizet, on the flute. She was accompanied by Ardith Rice on the piano.

Bob Tuttle was rated excellent for his tuba solo, "Romance in Scherzo," by Saul B. Cohen. Bob, who normally plays trombone in the WSH Dance Band, saw a challenge in learning to play the tuba and mastered it for his appearance in Sunnyvale.

TWO WESTMOOR students are competing for the title of "Teen Talents of 1964," at a program produced by Teen Talent Associates, a Junior Achievement undertaking. They are sophomore Elaine Pistoresi, 15, and freshman Dennis Houlihan, 13.

They are among nine semifinalists from Bay Area high schools who have been chosen to perform Saturday evening, April 10, at the Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco. At stake is a $150 cash award, a guest appearance on the Art Linkletter Show and an audition with RCA Victor recordings.

Elaine will enact a dramatic interpretation of Birdie Hubbard, a neurotic alcoholic in the play, "The Little Foxes," by Lillian Hellman. Last Thursday, she played Mama in the Drama Class' production of Thornton Wilder's' "Childhood."

Dennis will play the organ at the show and is the only person who will play a keyboard instrument. He plays each Sunday at St. Stephen's Church in Stonestown and is a demonstration organist employed by Alec's Department Store.

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

THE GERM which hit many parts of the county in epidemic proportions laid the Tigers pretty low, too. During "flu week," the number of absences was astounding; Monday, 231, and Tuesday, 251, were absent—just about a quarter of the T.N. population.

The Juniors have been routing Pacificans out of bed early, lately, trying to sell light bulbs. (Just when they need them.) Amazingly enough, they sold quite a few, but they can't figure out just how much they've cleared until all the money's in—and it's not coming in very fast. Our junior class advisor is slightly perturbed.

JOE HIGGINS, student body president, who openly professes a great love for girls of all varieties but doesn't go steady or even date them, recently stated that the seniors cleared $1,300 to $1,500 from the Hootenanny. A more reliable source put the figure at $980, which sounds more like it.

The $1,748 that the senior class now has makes it the richest class the Jefferson Union High School District ever had. Generous seniors wish to donate the surplus to the school in the form of a sign—something our high school doesn't now have—which would show the name of the school and perhaps would have a bulletin board that would schedule coming events.

Four Terra Novans and one T.N. grad have entered the Miss Pacifica Contest. The graduate is Bonnie Trudeau. Other T.N. contestants are Theresa Foley, Sandy Kester, Janice Vermillion, and Kathy Hinkel.

Nine Westmoor Seniors Are CSF Life Members

Nine seniors at Westmoor High School have been honored with life memberships in the California Scholarship Federation. They are:

John Cuniberti, James Fotenos, Lynn Jones, Jim Moses, Nancy Podesta, Donald Ritzman, Sherry Rosen, Sue Sherman and Diana Stipelkovich.

To obtain life membership, students must qualify for CSF in four of their last six semesters in high school—including one semester in the senior year.

A total of 22 freshmen, 32 sophomores, 16 juniors and 22 seniors are members of the current CSF chapter at Westmoor—the largest membership in the chapter's history.

Newly elected CSF officers are Fotenos, president; Miss Jones, vice president and Tim Herbert, secretary-treasurer.

The chapter will provide ushers at a Westmoor open house program April 23 and at graduation exercises in June.

Four Plays Are Given By Classes

Westmoor High School's three drama classes spent a busy week last week.

Using their own costumes and props, 50 beginning thespians acted out four plays in the Little Theatre. Ten performances were presented.

The plays were "Don't Tell A Soul," by James Reach; "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, and "Childhood" and "The Happy Journey from Trenton to Camden," by Thornton Wilder.

"Childhood" also was presented at the Westmoor P-TA meeting Thursday. Cast in this performance were Elaine Pistoresi, Nick Freiberg, Jackie Padfield, Carrell Boyd and Rory Schenk.

In other activities, a preview performance of the spring musical, "Seventeen" was given. Linda Rundell and Rich Davenport sang "Reciprocity."

THEFT REPORTED

George Hidzick of 783 Higate Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen two savings banks, containing $60, and trading stamps valued at $25 from his residence.

Teenage Talent

Members of Dimes Group Are Chosen

Members of a committee that will select candidates for March of Dimes Health Career Awards have been named by James J. Kehoe, chairman of the San Mateo County Chapter of the National Foundation.

Qualified applicants for five awards will be screened by the committee. They will be chosen from among high school seniors and college students.

The committee members are: The Rev. James O'Shaughnessy, assistant pastor of St. Bartholomew's Church in San Mateo and moderator of the Newman Club for the College of San Mateo; Dr. Thomas E. Farthing of San Mateo, for the medical profession.

Mrs. Leonard Offield, wife of Dr. Offield of Hillsborough, for nursing; Mrs. Mae C. Hayes, counselor at Menlo-Atherton High School in Atherton; and Paul V. Claudon, principal of Capuchino High School in San Bruno.

Any high school senior residing in San Mateo County is eligible to apply for an award in nursing, occupational therapy and physical therapy, according to Mrs. J. L. Whetsel of 3440 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno, March of Dimes coordinator.

Any student currently a sophomore in a regionally accredited college is eligible for an award.

College seniors completing requirements for admission to a fully accredited medical school are eligible for an award in medicine.

Deadline for applications is April 15. The committee will meet soon to name a chairman and study applications.

Junior Teen Events Listed

Here is a schedule of meeting times and places and events for four teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Casualiers: Meet first and third Fridays at Colma Upper School; regular meeting, Saturday, April 3; bowling and barbecue, Saturday April 11; regular meeting, April 17.

Majestics: Meet first and third Fridays at Lincoln Park Clubhouse; regular meeting and ping-pong tournament, April 3; "Western Night," April 17.

Telstars: Meet second and fourth Fridays at Abraham Lincoln School; talent show and dance, tomorrow; swimming party, April 3; toga party, April 10; Beattle stomp, April 24.

Jeff Thespians Plan 2 Dramas

Two one-act plays will be offered at Jefferson High School's Fine Arts Festival in May by the school's newest organization, the Drama Club.

The plays are: "Kill the Old Roster" and "Sunday Costs Five Pesos."

COUNTY PROPOSAL

Cities Asked to Join Road Plan

The county and as many cities as are willing will start in July to accumulate a fund to build the roads that were to have been paid for by last year's ill-fated road bond issue.

Chairman James V. Fitzgerald of the County Board of Supervisors has told the Greater Highways Committee the county will contribute all of its new gas tax money, about $370,000 a year, to the central pool for road work entirely within the cities.

At his suggestion, the GHC agreed to a July 15 deadline for cities to join the program. Only those cities that have joined by that date will get any of the pooled funds in the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The precise details of how the program will work were not determined. Fitzgerald acknowledged that "there are a lot of bugs in this."

"But this is a start," he added. "We will just have to work out the details."

Supervisor T. Louis Chess added his support to the proposal.

"If you don't do something now," he warned, "you'll be in the damnedest mess in 10 or 15 years you could ever imagine. It will be tragic."

Grapho Analysis Performs At Sinaloa

"Ginna," Sinaloa Grapho Analyst, has an interesting way of introducing herself. Before the floor show gets under way she does a little Time Step and explains what Grapho Analysis is to the tune of "Tea For Two."

'Keno' Winner

Everything was "Keno" at Barney's Casino in Lake Tahoe (South Shore) Nevada, last Friday the 13th, for a lucky tourist who stopped in to play a $1.10 eight spot. The tourist hit every number for a tidy take of $25,000. For viewing curiosity, the ticket is on display at the casino.

Bus service to Barney's is now on a seven-nights-a-week schedule from the Governor Hotel and San Francisco Greyhound Bus Depot. Leaving at 8 p.m.

Finocchio's International Entertainers

In the present cast now appearing in "Academy Awards in Song" at Finocchio's in San Francisco, there are artists of six different nationalities, including three European ones, Italian, French and Spanish. Among the seven comedians, four singing stars and three dancing specialists, there is only one native-born San Franciscan, Comic Jackie Phillips.

Enrico Romano had plans to motor to Lake Tahoe, last weekend. But when his Pacifica restaurant menu appeared in the San Mateo Times, the "king" was grounded — he wound up in the kitchen with "Mama" serving and preparing Italian dinners.

Frank "Frenchy" Dennison wishes to remind you that it will be "Paris in April" at his exciting Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn on April 2, when the new French menu will debut.

Look for something a little on the "sensational" food side to originate at Keith's Chicken and Steak House in Burlingame right after the first of March. Keith has that foxy smile light up — and I know what it means.

Warm Days Great For Fosters Take-Out Orders

Foster's Original Pancake and Chicken House can prepare 90 pieces of chicken in 12 minutes from raw to finish in their Radar Range. These warm days are naturals for "take out." With delicious Farm Fried Chicken to go—from box lunches to buckets, why not take a night away from the kitchen fires and "Let Fosters Do The Cookin!"

Special note for your "Where to dine Easter Sunday" book: A festive, complete dinner will be served at Foster's on Easter Sunday, March 29, with all the trimmings (hors d'oeuvres to dessert) in the family-priced bracket of $2.50; childs plate, $1.50. Plenty of parking space.

The Lanai Liquor Store adjoining the Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurants has the largest stock of imported and domestic liquors, liqueurs and wines in Northern California. Operated by Emerson Murfee, Lanai Liquors welcomes charge accounts and your Villa Chartier credit card is good here.

If Lew Lehr, the Marina steak man, keeps improving his golf game, his handicap will be going way down. Lew shot a fancy 84 at Harding, last week, his all-time best game.

Nob Hill Trio, and Siva Pack the Caravan Inn

There are rooms for trios and trios for rooms, and now and again the combination clicks both ways. That's just what happened Monday night at the Mountain View Caravan Inn, where the well known Nob Hill Trio (Dave, Don, and Sam) opened to a sell out house.

Being one of those present at 2 a.m., I can vouch that they held the crowd right up to the "last call for drinks." Incidentally, the Nob Hill Trio had plenty of entertainment assistance in the formful and attractive person of Siva, an exotic belly dancer, who also made her Peninsula debut Monday evening.

Siva is a combination of everything that the entertainment conscious public is seeking — pleasing both male and female ringsiders with her "art." Her authentic Arabian whirls and shakes, timed to perfection, remind one of a slave girl trying to win a position in her master's harem.

It was mentioned in Bright Lights that Betty Sedam, general manager of the Mountain View Caravan Inn, had an entertainment surprise package in store for you. Believe me, the capers and dance tunes of the Nob Hill Trio, plus the belly dancing of exotic Siva, make up a talent package that will do a sell-out business Monday through Saturday for some time to come. Congrats to the Caravan Inn and Al King for a splendid booking.

Bear in mind: Breakfast, luncheon and dinner is served; plenty of room for private banquets. Easter Sunday dinner reservations are now being taken.

JOSEPH PICCININI, in addition to being proud of the food at Oreste's, is always ready to brag about his waiters to all the honored guests. It seems that Waiter Ivo E. Corrieri is the venerable master of the Sons of Italy; Givanni Lococo is an attorney from Italy; Waiter Giavanni Cansona is a schoolmaster from Italy; Waiter Marcello Baldocchi was formerly a newspaper editor in Italy, and Waiter Franco Randazzo is one of Italy's outstanding artists . . . Reservations for the traditional Easter dinner at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo are coming in faster than any previous Easter, according to Owner-host Emerson Murfee. The chef plans a wonderful menu with a choice of more than a dozen delicious entrees to select from, including Baked Virginia Ham, Roast Tom Turkey, Prime Ribs of Beef, Leg of Spring Lamb and many others.

Joe Piccinini

MANY OF YOU HAVE SEEN COMEDIAN MEL YOUNG at various Peninsula night clubs, but until you have seen Mel do his zany version of "The Swim" dance at the Galaxie in San Fran, "you ain't seen nuttin' yet." With the Nooney Rickett Four, Joni Lyman and Judy Mac onstage, Mel's "Swim" breaks up audiences at the Galaxie. It's wild! . . . Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kluss of Richmond celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a dinner party held at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery in San Francisco . . . Next on the Nero's Nook agenda at the Palo Alto Cabana are the wacky but wonderful musical comedy group billed as Gil & Nikki & the So & So's. They will open March 23 and run through April 11 . . . The noon hour at Rocca's restaurant has become a meeting place for the San Francisco City Hall judges, because of it's convenient location and excellent food . . . From Las Vegas Hacienda tours receptionist, Jan Sands: "Aftermath means the refiguring we're going to have to do if our income tax return isn't right the first time." . . . The new and unusual Belden Garden patio restaurant is one of San Francisco's finest banquet rooms for private parties available.

Bright Lights by Lloyd Johnson

'Suddenly There's a Gogi Grant' at The Nugget

GOGI GRANT, one of the best selling recording artists in the business and a strong favorite throughout the night club circuit across the country, returns March 26 for her third stint in the Circus Room Theatre Restaurant of John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks (East Reno), Nevada. Gogi catapulted into national prominence in the late 1950's with the release of her two million sellers, "Suddenly There's a Valley" and "Wayward Wind." She was later selected by Warner Brothers Studios to be the voice of the late, great Helen Morgan when the famed singer's life was filmed. The 22 songs she recorded for the sound track were released in a long playing album by RCA Victor and it was a best seller for two consecutive years. Bill (Jose Jimenez) Dana will share the spotlight with Gogi, and augmenting these headliners will be the George Arnold Singers and Dancers, plus "Bertha," the Nugget's 5,500 pound performing elephant . . . When Producer Monte Proser brought in "Anything Goes" at the Las Vegas Thunderbird, Little did he know that Mrs. William Cadenhead of San Diego, Calif., would take the title seriously. She laughed so hard during comedy scenes featured in the Cole Porter musical that she was rushed to a local hospital where she gave birth to her 3½-pound premature son. Mom and the new Cadenhead heir both are doing fine, thank you.

Gogi Grant

HIGH KICKERS — Formful Janet Karis and Bonnie England, dancing lovelies in the new Oakland Holiday Inn show, "Holiday In Paris," give you a "slight" idea of what to expect when viewing this fast-moving revue.

BRITTA TONINI has been "on the double" at her Princeton Inn, headquarters for everything in the sports field—from boating to "hot rod" racing. Sports participants meet, dine wine, and discuss current and future events . . . Guido Bianchina and Joe Selmi will soon have their 1964 Giant baseball schedules ready. You're welcome to stop in the J and G Restaurant and pick one up. When you do, take time to enjoy one of those wonderful Italian dinners . . . The Bill Altieri Combo is currently entertaining at the Burma Club Friday and Saturday nights. Another Burma Club special: Dipped hot roast sandwiches prepared by Mrs. Beck . . . Sunday morning fizz breakfasts at the Woodside Pioneer Hotel rate particular attention — especially on Easter Sunday morn. Dinner tip: Tenderloin of Beef Brochette Bearnaise . . . The finest Mexican dishes in the West are served at the Redwood City Pancho's . . . Fashion show luncheons are a big attraction, these days, and Ron's beautiful Surf House is a Friday noonday natural for them. Many of those who have "found" this restaurant and made it their out-of-town dinner stop are from San Francisco.

Britta Tonini

NOW I HAVE HEARD EVERYTHING: Nick Gust of Pacifica is so in demand that in order to keep golf dates he is thinking of carrying a Walkie-Talkie so he can call restaurant "signals" when not "fore-ing." . . . Vince Licata now has his new "seafood oasis" well-stocked with take home vittles. This new spot is a stainless steel dream and well worth a drop-in inspection. . . . Banquets may be arranged at the San Francisco New Tivoli for luncheon, as well as dinner. Five such rooms from which to choose. . . . Traditional Easter breakfast on schedule at Crystal Springs Golf Course. Also a special plate for the kiddies, and a fizz special for mom and dad . . . Nothing superstitious about Fannie or Frank Torres. Their Montara Beach Hotel has 13 windows which afford an ocean front view that's mighty hard to duplicate.

Nick Gust

Hyatt House Perfect Setting

Can't think of a nicer place to enjoy Easter dinner than at the luxurious Hyatt House Hotel in Burlingame, where all the comforts of home are available, plus two dining rooms—one serving authentic Cantonese dishes, the other Continental cuisine. Smiling General Manager Ed Sullivan is the perfect host in this Las Vegas vacation atmosphere.

The University of California Club meets tonight for a dinner party at Cafe El Portal in San Francisco.

The tastefully decorated Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco has earned the plaudits of hundreds of diners. The food is great and, with the lovely fireplace cocktail lounge, this is definitely a place you must go and see and enjoy.

Moar's Cafeteria has it's "menu sights" set for a record breaking Easter Sunday crowd—rightly should, what with a complete dinner priced from $1.75 to $2.00. Special kiddie plate, $1.00. Service from 11:30 a.m.

Top Harrah's

A double-barreled attraction —featuring beautiful songstress Anna Maria Alberghetti and Humorist Vaughn Meader moves into the South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe beginning next Thursday night (March 26) for a two-week stay Edie Adams tops the program through next Wednesday night.

Sign hanging in the cashier's cage at Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club: "Pies Like Mother Used to Make Before She Took Up Bridge and Cigarettes."

BETTER BUSINESS

Court Available For Small Claims

By LORENE BEASLEY, Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

The Better Business Bureau keeps constantly reminding the consumer public to "get the facts before it acts." It provides free factual information on various business categories and acts to prevent unfair criticism of business.

In spite of Better Business Bureau alerts and state and federal laws, the public continues to blindly sign contracts, certain consumers and businessmen continue not to live up to their obligations, and bad checks are passed.

The Small Claims Court is a special court created to provide justice in a small lawsuit without costing the plaintiff more than the amount involved in the suit.

It also saves the regular court's time by hearing the thousands of claims involving small claims.

Everyone is entitled to avail himself of the services of the Small Claims Court.

If the claim is more than $200, Small Claims Court can only be used by foregoing the part of the claim over the $200 limit.

Certain days are set aside each week for Small Claims Court with municipal judges hearing the cases. Neither plaintiff nor defendant may have the services of a lawyer in this court.

The plaintiff can sue for personal injury, property damage, return of money loaned, bad checks and labor but not for the return of specific property or for performance of services.

IF A BUSINESS firm is sued, the suit is filed in the court of the judicial district where the firm does business. The same holds true if an individual is sued.

There are two exceptions. (1) If the suit concerns a claim on a contract or a promise to pay for work done, suit may be brought to the judicial district where the defendant promised to pay.

(2) A claim for personal injuries or damage to personal property may be heard in the judicial district in which the accident took place.

Action may be started in Small Claims Court by filling out a form and paying a fee of $1. The form contains a court order signed by the court clerk, directing the defendant to appear in court on a certain day and time.

The facts stated in the form must be true under the penalty of perjury. If the firm being sued is owned by one person, the name of the business and address is required.

If a partnership is sued, the name of all partners and the firm's name and address must appear. If a corporation is sued the full corporate name and address of the main office is required.

When the corporation headquarters are out of state, the resident agent's name is listed.

If the claim concerns an automobile accident, the registered owner and address and driver of the other car must be listed on the form.

The statement that payment has been refused and the amount of money involved must appear in the form.

A copy of the form is served on the defendant at least 5 days before the trial if the defendant lives in the county, or 15 days before the trial if it is served outside the county where the court is located.

THE PLAINTIFF cannot serve the form himself. It can be served by the clerk by certified mail for a fee of $1, or by the sheriff or any person 18 years of age or over who has no connection with the suit.

The defendant must be personally served. The process server must sign a "declaration of service" and deliver it back to the court clerk before the trial.

If the defendant files a counterclaim, a copy must be delivered to the plaintiff at least 48 hours before the trial.

If the counterclaim does not exceed $200, Small Claims Court retains jurisdiction to hear the case. If the plaintiff files a counterclaim for more than $200, the Small Claims Court judge transfers the case to the proper court.

The court clerk, upon request, will issue subpoenas to witnesses for both sides. The subpoenas should be served in ample time before date of trial.

A witness subpoenaed is entitled to $4 a day and five cents a mile one way to court. This fee may be demanded at time of service.

The process server can pay it and collect the fee from the person who asked the subpoena to be served.

If the plaintiff wins the case, the clerk enters a judgment against the defendant stating the amount and how it is to be paid. The plaintiff must collect the judgment himself.

Should the losing party refuse to pay the judgment, the court clerk will issue a "Writ of Execution" for a fee of $1. The writ contains an order for the sheriff or marshal to seize and sell enough property belonging to the losing party to satisfy the amount of judgment.

If the winning party wishes to garnishee the wages of a person employed by the state, county or city government, the court clerk will supply an abstract of judgment.

This is filed with the auditor of the particular government office for a fee of $2, with a declaration of amount of money due the plaintiff.

Candidates Will Speak

The 10 candidates running for two seats on the Pacifica City Council have been invited to speak at a joint candidates' night program.

The program will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, April 3, in the multi-use room of Westview School.

It will be sponsored by the Fairmont Improvement Association, the Manor Village Improvement Club, the Ocean Park Manor Homeowners Association and the Westview Improvement Club.

Pedestrian Badly Hurt

A 35-year-old San Francisco man was seriously injured last Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by an auto at Mission Street and Templeton Avenue in Daly City.

John Bonfiglio suffered a cerebral concussion, fractures of both legs and a lacerated left eyelid. He was taken to Peninsula Hospital.

The driver of the auto, Roland H. Young, 37, of Oakland, told police he did not see the pedestrian after he had stopped behind an auto at an intersection and started up.

Office Seekers Night Planned

A Candidates' Night for persons seeking City Council seats in Pacifica will be co-sponsored by the Linda Mar Highlands Association, the Pacifica Ministerial Association and the American Association of University Women next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Pedro Valley School.

Persons interested in presenting questions for the candidates may participate by writing them on a postcard and sending them to Candidates' Night, 1046 View Way, Pacifica.

D.C. Library Unit Rejects County Offer

The Daly City Library Commission has turned down an offer from the San Mateo County Library System to provide services to residents in the Bayshore City area.

City Librarian Samuel Chandler said his staff has already begun to process books and materials for Daly City's own branch in the area, annexed to the city last August.

The commission, however, renewed a reciprocal contract with the county system that allows residents of the unincorporated areas of Broadmoor and Colma to use the Daly City library system.

In exchange, Daly City will received 7,000 books annually, short term loans and use of the county's reference materials and services.

In other business, the library commission went over budget proposals to be presented to City Manager Edward Frank.

The city council is reviewing proposals from departments and now must complete its study by June.

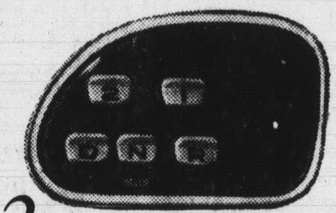
Tear out this ad.

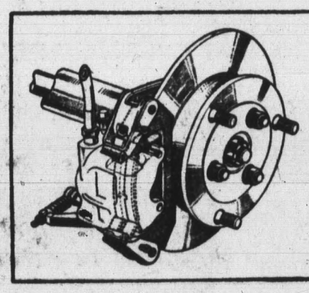
It's your invitation to our 64/5 preview

1. Walk in and the first thing you'll get is a smile. When you're selling the most popular economy import of them all, why frown?



2. We'll also show you pushbutton automatic transmission. Renault dealers love to show off pushbutton transmission (not many economy imports have it). We also like to talk about gas mileage. You get up to 40 miles on a gallon of gas from Renault, and that's worth talking about.

Remember You Can Get A NEW RENAULT For as little as $10 per week, and it's automatic, too! The Renault, that is!



3. We'll show you 4-wheel disc brakes. The same kind you find on expensive imports. The same kind you find on racing cars. The only kind you'll find on the new Renault.

4. We'll show you to the door—of a Renault R-8, that is. (It has 4, not 2.) And we'll let you take it for a test spin. We know that if you'll test drive a Renault, you'll buy a Renault. Nice guys, our salesmen. Why don't you pay us a visit soon?
